QUICK, SURGICAL AMENDMENTS (paste where indicated)

1) Fortify Entrenchment Coverage (Title XVII §1701 Core List)

Right now §1701 says Core = Titles VI–XVI + certain elements. Many later Titles already declare themselves

Core in their own Perpetuity clauses (great), but courts love a conflict. We'll make §1701 explicitly include the new Titles, so there's zero daylight.

Replace Title XVII §1701 with:

Sec. 1701. Core List.
For purposes of entrenchment, "Core" includes:
(a) Titles VI through XVI;
(b) Titles XXVIII through XXXIX;
(c) All transparency APIs mandated by Title III;
(d) Universal standing and private rights of action (Title I §105 and Title XIX);
(e) Fallback governance (Title XIV §1403);
(f) Dignity and algorithmic rights (Titles XIII & XV);
(g) The Digital Litigation Court (Title X).
Any provision designated "Core" elsewhere in this Act shall be treated as Core for §§1702–1703 and Title XXVII.

(This harmonizes every Perpetuity clause and makes repeal hurdles uniform.)

2) Add Benchmarks for the New Titles (new SCHEDULE D — Benchmarks & Scorecards)

Schedule B covers money/elections/transparency. Your new Titles need crisp clocks. Add this as Schedule D:

SCHEDULE D — BENCHMARKS & SCORECARDS (NEW)

• National out-of-pocket cap ≤ 2% of median household income for dignity-floor services.

———

4) Tiny cross-reference polish (optional but tidy)
- In Title XXXI §3109(b) you already reference “Civilian Review Boards (Title XXX)”—good.
- Multiple Titles declare themselves “Core.” With the §1701 replacement above, you won’t get a court nitpicking overlap.

Sec. 4205. Jurisdiction & Comity Clarification.
(a) The DLC is an Article I tribunal with exclusive statutory jurisdiction over matters assigned in Title X, subject to appeal per §1006.
(b) No court shall enjoin DLC proceedings unless necessary to prevent a direct, text-anchored constitutional violation identified with citation to Article/Section/Clause.
(c) Article III courts retain full power to resolve constitutional questions certified under Title XL §4004.

Sec. 4206. Spending-Clause Safe Harbor.
To the extent any mandate on states exceeds permissible federal compulsion, it shall be re-construed as a funding condition with clear notice, proportionality, and program nexus; sever any overbroad sanction rather than the underlying right.

Sec. 4207. Remedy Narrow-Tailoring.
When a court finds defect in application or scope, it shall (i) preserve the core rule; (ii) limit relief to the parties where possible; (iii) prefer declaratory relief over facial invalidation; and (iv) allow Congress 180 days to cure before any structural relief affecting Core systems (Title XVII §1701).

Sec. 4208. Anti-Evasion & Data Continuity.
Repeal, defunding, or suspension attempts that bypass §2203 shall not affect (i) open data/API publication; (ii) record preservation; (iii) citizen standing and fee-shifting. These persist until any repeal becomes effective under §2203.

Sec. 4209. Contract Reliance & Takings Guard.
Core guarantees (G-USD coverage, dignity baskets, open-data obligations where citizens have accrued entitlements) are statutory contracts; modifications require due process and just compensation if they substantially impair vested reliance (Title XLI §4104).

Sec. 4210. Sunrise, Sunset, and Cure.
If a court identifies a single overbroad application, it shall specify a curable narrowing construction and stay relief for ≤180 days to allow correction, during which citizen monitoring and all API disclosures continue.

Sec. 4211. Severability & Linkage (Re-affirmed).
Layered severability in Title XXI §2102 applies to every Title herein; invalidation of any non-core provision does not affect Core. If a Core fragment is implicated, courts must apply §2102 linkage analysis and provide a cure window before any disablement.

Sec. 4212. Core Repeal Uniformity.
Cross-reference Title XVII §1701 (as amended) and Title XXVII: any Title that declares itself Core is treated as Core for §2203 procedures without further findings.

Red-Team: Highest-Risk Spots & Quick Fixes

(These are the places a court is likeliest to probe. Each fix is surgical and consistent with your draft.)

1. Direct “perpetuity” / supermajority to repeal.

Risk: Congress can’t truly entrench ordinary statutes against future Congress.
Your posture: You’ve smartly tied repeal to process (PAM + supermajority) rather than declaring repeal “unconstitutional.”
Fix baked-in above: Keep §2203 as a self-imposed rule of construction + political-process lock, not a constitutional bar. Pair with Sec. 4208 (data continuity + citizen standing survive any repeal attempt until it lawfully completes).

2. National recall of Article III judges & federal officers (Title XXIII §2302).

Risk: Article III tenure (“during good Behaviour”) + impeachment is the constitutional path.
Fix: Narrow §2302 to non-Article III officers (or require PAM-advisory + impeachment referral). Add: “Article III judges remain subject to impeachment; PAM returns are advisory and must be transmitted to the House within 7 days.”

3. DLC structure & appellate path (Title X).

Risk: Article I court handling broad rights can raise separation-of-powers/Seventh Amendment issues.
Fix: You already have D.C. Circuit review + limited SCOTUS gate. Sec. 4205 clarifies DLC = Article I tribunal; emphasize questions of law get Article III review; preserve jury rights where required (add a line in Title X §1003: “Nothing herein abridges jury trial where the Seventh Amendment applies; DLC shall certify such issues to Article III courts as needed.”)

4. State-level mandates (elections, policing, housing).

Risk: Anti-commandeering.
Fix: Convert to Spending Clause conditions explicitly (Sec. 4203/4206) and keep Elections Clause items limited to federal elections.

5. “Universal recall” of members of Congress.

Risk: Federal Constitution doesn’t provide voter recall for members of Congress.

Fix: Keep PAM as advisory + triggers expulsion vote under Art. I §5 or sets special election procedures only where states’ laws allow. Add: “Nothing herein modifies the Expulsion Clause or qualifications.”

6. “Rights of Nature” standing (Title XXXIV §3405).

Risk: Article III injury-in-fact skepticism.

Fix: Preserve citizen-suit standing (injury to aesthetic/recreational interests) and treat “ecosystem standing” as a statutory real-party interest represented by citizens. Add a note: “Citizen plaintiffs asserting concrete use, enjoyment, or health harms may sue on behalf of the ecosystem.”

7. Qualified immunity abolition (Titles XXX & XXXIX).

Risk: Congress can set causes of action and remedies; that’s fine, but keep it anchored in 14th Amendment §5 and Commerce/Spending where applicable.

Fix: Add a parenthetical in those sections: “Enforced pursuant to 14th Amendment §5; no retroactive liability where due-process fair notice would be lacking.”

8. Executive Tri-Council continuity (Companion Act).

Risk: Interacts with the Presidential Succession Act and Twentieth/Twenty-Fifth Amendments.

Fix: Add: “Operative to the extent consistent with the Presidential Succession Act and the 20th/25th Amendments; conflicting provisions function as statutory recommendations unless and until harmonized by constitutional amendment.”

9. Mandatory platform audits & API disclosures (Title XXIX).

Risk: First Amendment & compelled speech scrutiny.

Fix: Frame as commercial transparency for paid political communications and content-neutral process disclosures; ensure strict tailoring and no compelled editorial content. (You’ve done most of this — just add a line: “No provision compels editorial viewpoints; obligations are content-neutral transparency for paid political communication and systemic process logs.”)

10. Autonomous-weapons ban & PAM ratification (Title XXXII §3207).

Risk: Commander-in-Chief tensions.

Fix: Keep it as appropriations + procurement control and export licensing under Commerce/Arms Export Control, plus no deployment without congressional authorization. You’re already there; you’re good.

Added and amended actions

e X §1003 (Procedures): “Nothing herein abridges jury trial rights where applicable; the DLC shall certify such issues to Article III courts.”

- Title XXIII §2302 (Universal Recall Power): add “(Excludes Article III judges; PAM returns are advisory and automatically referred to the House for consideration of impeachment or to the Senate/House for expulsion under Art. I §5.)”
- Title XXX & XXXIX (qualified immunity): add “(Enforced pursuant to Fourteenth Amendment §5; prospective application; fair-notice preserved.)”
- Titles touching states (elections, policing, housing, education): add at the end of each enforcement section: “(Condition of federal funds; proportional and program-specific.)”

Subchapter C — Manifesto to the People of Now and the Future

To the People of Today:
This Constitution belongs to you—not to party, profit, or power. It restores your right to know, to decide, and to hold accountable every institution that shapes your life. It is not an abstract dream but a living engine built to ensure fairness, prosperity, and dignity for all.

To the People of Tomorrow:
Guard this framework not as relic but as inheritance. Question it, refine it, and keep it human. The systems, currencies, and algorithms shall serve you, not rule you. Freedom is not preserved by forgetting, but by continuing the great repair.

For the People. By the People. No Exceptions.

B. PUBLIC ONE-PAGER — HOW TO DEFEND OUR CONSTITUTION (COPY-PASTE READY)

HOW TO DEFEND OUR CONSTITUTION — A SIMPLE GUIDE FOR EVERY CITIZEN
Short. Clear. Actionable. Keep this on your fridge, phone, and community boards.

———

1. Know your rights (fast)

- You have the right to healthcare, housing, nutrition, broadband, fair wages, and digital privacy.
- You can sue (you have standing) if an agency, official, or corporation hides, harms, or steals from you.
- You can petition, propose amendments, and participate in citizen assemblies.

———

2. Watch the dashboards (two minutes a day)

- Visit the Public Transparency Portal daily (link): check budgets, contracts, and the core APIs status panel.
- If an important service is down or an official report is missing, write it down and report it.

———

3. Report problems fast (how)

- Use the Citizen Helpdesk (phone / web) — publish contact info prominently.
- To report: give your name, location, the problem, where you saw it (link/screenshots), and time.
- If you see suspicious funding flows, copy the public document ID and submit via the Petitions Portal.

———

4. File a petition (step-by-step)

1. Go to the Petitions Portal and choose: Transparency, Service Failure, Corruption, Audit Request, or Emergency.
2. Fill the short form (Title; What happened; Evidence link; Desired fix).
3. If your petition reaches threshold (e.g., 1,000 verified signatures for local review, 1,000,000 for national deliberation), it moves automatically to the next stage.
4. The DLC will notify you of date/time for a hearing or request more info.

———

5. Join a citizen assembly (how)

- Sign up at your regional Citizen Assembly portal; assemblies meet regularly to review budgets and local projects.
- If chosen by sortition, participate — your vote and voice have real legal power.

---

6. Defend facts, not fury (do's & don'ts)

Do: keep records—screenshots, links, names. Use official portals. Speak calmly and share verifiable info.
Don't: spread unverified rumors, participate in illegal actions, or share private data that could harm others.

---

7. What to do in an emergency (service failure, suspected sabotage)

- Step 1: Check the API Status Dashboard — is it a known outage?
- Step 2: If unexplained, file an Emergency Petition (select "Continuity Incident") and call the Citizen Helpdesk.
- Step 3: Share only verified facts publicly; the IRU will publish updates.
- Step 4: If you're asked to participate in a public exercise or town hall, do it — civic presence matters.

---

8. How to hold officials accountable

- Ask for the official's public compliance reports (they must publish them).
- If they don't publish, file an obstruction report with the DLC.
- Use the Recall Petition form if systemic failure persists; community thresholds trigger investigations.

9. Learn more & teach others

- Attend free civic training at local hubs (schedule on portal).
- Download the "How to File a Petition" quick guide and teach friends one-on-one.
- Civic strength comes from ordinary people using ordinary tools every day.
